Acorn Park - Weekly Roundup

Good afternoon everyone,

And just like that it's half term! We've had a few short weeks this term so far, but it really has flown by!

This week Gray class spent time making flower art.

We had the GCSE Options evening for our Y9 parents, thank-you to those that were able to join us. There are some exciting times ahead for these students – if you have any questions, please let your child's class teacher know. We've offered options subjects for the last 4/5 years and it's always amazing to hear to variety in the children's choices!

We've had yet more exams – well done to those sitting them this week, English Language, English Literature and GCSE Computer Science – big exams!

We've noticed a few students arriving without healthy options in their lunchboxes this week. We totally understand how restrictive diets can be, but where possible we always encourage some healthy choices. If you'd like support with getting more flexibility with food and expanding your child's dietary preferences, please get in touch with the FLOs or your children class teacher – they can liaise with our onsite clinicians to provide some advice and guidance.

Student stars

Care

Harry A – for clearing away other's plates from the table in the refectory.

Thrive

Tristram C - for transitioned with his peers for travel training to the sensory garden, walking all the way there and back

Grow

Tome R - for being a great friend and sharing with his peers

Strive

Adrian E - for adapting to changes so brilliantly this week and for communication his needs clearly

Eli and Thomas in Sissay for both scoring 5/5 on their RE true or false quizzes!

Wishing you all the best half term!

See you in a week,

Adam
